Second Appeal Made by Two Negroes on Charge of Gambling

Ed Price and Will Chance, two negroes, were fined $25 each on charges of gambling when brought before Justice of the Peace Fisher yesterday. Both cases had been appealed from the city court and were further appealed to the county court when fines were announced. Each made bond for $100 for his appearance in county court.

Robert E. England, who is said to be wanted on a felony charge at El Centro, California, was arrested in Ada yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Henry Whitson and is being held in the county jail pending the arrival of California officers. He has waived extradition, according to Sheriff Bob Duncan.

Albert Patterson, city constable at Lula, Oklahoma, brought Owen Knight here yesterday to be placed in jail. Knight is charged with killing a horse.

Georges Arrives 12:50.
JERSEY CITY, July 2.—Georges Carpentier, the French challenger, arrived on the yacht Lone Star at 12:50 this afternoon.

He Loses Way.
JERSEY CITY, July 2.—The challenger lost his way on entering the Boyle's thirty acres. He stood outside puzzled as to the way to take. Two guides went and piloted him in. Manager Descamps entered the arena chattering to himself, with abandon and gesticulation as he marched to the dressing room a few feet ahead of the challenger.

Enters Arena at 2.
RINGSIDE, July 2.—Carpentier entered the arena at 2 o'clock and went immediately to the dressing room.

Few Notice Challenger.
RINGSIDE, July 2.—Carpentier arrival in the arena was unnoticed by all save nine of the 91,600 odd spectators. They raised a cheer but the demonstration was soon over. The challenger looked as dapper as ever. He was wearing a gray suit with a cap to match.

About two the crowd began to shed their coats and soon became a shirt sleeve party.

HOT PRELIMINARIES OPEN BIG PROGRAM

RINGSIDE, July 2, 1 p. m.—The carnival of blows for which thousands of people met today about a little 18 foot ring in Jersey City was opened at 12:10 with the preliminary bouts that served as cocktails for the feast, the battle between Jack Dempsey of America and Georges Carpentier of France, for the heavyweight boxing title of the world.

The first bout was between Mickey Delmont and Jackey Cur-tain.

After sitting for hours in a wooden bowl under the lowering sky the army of spectators straightened the kinks out of their backs, polished their glasses and prepared to view the world's greatest fight in the world's greatest arena.

When the champion and challenger later usurped the stage, it was under the gaze of one of the most remarkable fight crowds ever assembled, coming from the four corners of the earth, a crowd that embodied notables in every walk of life, a crowd in which thousands of women waited as eagerly as the men for the test of strength and skill that would come when the champion of the old world met the champion of the new.

Openers Start Early.
The first preliminary bout, an 8 round affair, was put on early in an effort by the promoters to clean up the preliminaries to permit an early start of the championship bout.

An airplane circled over the stands taking pictures as the gong sounded.

The championship bout, under the boxing laws of New Jersey, will be a 12 round undecision contest. No official decision will be rendered in such a contest if both boxers are on their feet.

GALLERY GUARDS CAMP FOR NIGHT NEAR BOWL

(By the Associated Press)
RINGSIDE, JERSEY CITY, July 2.—The yellow pine saucer, which when the sun came out, glistened like a giant bowl of brass, was filled with humanity, but, unlike the ordinary saucer it filled from the brim down instead of from the bottom up, for the first to arrive were the gallery guard with the periscope eye who camped all night outside the arena for the privilege of paying Promoter Tex Rickard $5.30.

Gradually the wave of humanity rolled down to the ringside as the more plutocratic ticket holders reached the stadium. Just before the gates were opened several hundred policemen made a thorough search of the arena to run out all squatters. Scores of boys who had secreted themselves during the night in an effort to see the fight without paying were pulled out of all sorts of hiding places and sent scampering through the gate.

Arena Is Sprinkled
A stream of water was turned on the inside of the arena to wet it down and eliminate the possibility of fire. Several hundred police in uniform and plain clothes mingled with the spectators on watch for undesirable characters, who generally make such a crowd their hunting ground. All persons arrested with criminal records in Jersey City will be requested to be held for 90 days under a state law that makes the detention possible. This is expected to act as a deterrent to the criminally inclined.

Unlike the ordinary show, today's performance, the "battle of the century" had no exclusive baldheaded row. Hairless heads were in many places replaced by coiffures par excellence, for women who have recently espoused boxing turned out in full force for today's carnival of blows.

CHALLENGER WENT OUT WITH SPIRITS HIGH

(By the Associated Press)
MANHASSET, July 2.—"I had a good sleep and feel fine."

This was Georges Carpentier's smiling comment as he came out of the house at 7:45 this morning. He arose at 6:30, indulged in 15 minutes of setting up exercises "to open his eyes," as Trainer Wilson expressed it, and then ate a light breakfast at 7:00. He lounged around the house until 7:45, when he attired himself in an old flannel shirt, old gray trousers, cap, checked red socks and worn shoes and emerged for a light exercise along the road.

He was surprised to find newspaper men waiting at the gate and with a bright smile on his face remarked:

"You're up early. Have you been up all night?"

WILL THEY LEARN?

The condition of the fruit and vegetable canning industry during the past year furnishes a wonderful object lesson for the labor organizations which clamor for reduced cost of living but no reduction in their payrolls.

A year ago the fruit and vegetable producers were able to demand and secure the highest prices on record for many crops. In the northwest, as an illustration, the price of loganberries had been forced up from three cents to thirteen and a half cents a pound. The canneries bought large quantities of this high priced fruit and packed it. Unfortunately the public decided it would no longer pay such prices and as a result all canned products have suffered a disastrous year.

Again this season the growers got together and decided what prices they would accept but the decision was useless for the public who pays the bill, said no. As a result canners refused to buy. Forcing prices to the limit had killed the market.

The same situation exists in the building trades and other labor organizations. If they continue to try and maintain artificial standards of wages regardless of changed conditions they will find themselves in the same position as the fruit growers, they will have lots of labor to sell but no one will buy it.

Will they profit by the experience of others or will they learn their lesson in the dear school of experience where the law of supply and demand is no respecter of persons or unions?

OUR LAWS PROTECT FOREIGNERS

Commenting on the problems to be met in the development of an American Merchant Marine, A. F. Haines, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Steamship Company, says:

"Under the combined laws of our country and the Marine Unions, an American ship is obliged to carry more men in the crews, pay double the wages and suffer many other handicaps from which the foreign vessels are free. It is interesting to note from the last report of the United States Shipping Commissioners, the nationality of all crews and officers, including masters signed on our American merchant vessels, native born Americans, 37.9 percent, and naturalized Americans, 9.6 per cent—a total of 47.5 per cent of American citizens, both native and naturalized.

"Can it be possible that the remaining 52.5 percent of has any interest in the up-building of an American Merchant Marine? The Marine Unions controlled by this 52.5 percent foreigners have demanded the abolishment of the United States Sea Service Bureau, a government institution formed and operated for this purpose of training American boys for the sea. Are these things not significant?

"Our nation is in its youth. While others may be tottering with decay, we are still growing and strong. We shall have a Merchant Marine second to none, manned by at least 51 percent of American citizens, and sufficient to carry at least 51 per cent of our exports and imports, but each of us must do our share. We must become a shipping people, build ships, think ships, invest in ships and send out boys to sea and patronize American ships. Then we need have no fear."

THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN

Practically every western state is facing for this year the greatest tax bill on record. In many instances, the tax has been doubled and trebled in the past six years.

Industry will be called upon to pay this burden and there is no way to get out of it, for the bill has been contracted.

The people are largely to blame for the present state of affairs and they will get no relief until by their voice expressed at elections they have the courage to demand tax reduction and to hold public officials to campaign pledges for economy.

Further, the citizen must get out and vote for men and measures which guarantee economy. If this is not done our tax burdens will grow until it will take special deputies to hunt down individuals and confiscate their property, if they have any, to meet the tax bills. This is not an exaggerated picture.

That the power to tax is the power to destroy has been already well illustrated and taxation today is the greatest single item which prevents and will prevent a return to pre-war conditions. Inasmuch as we have an enormous war tax bill to pay in addition to our other taxes, it is all the more necessary that a reduction in local taxrolls be demanded and secured.

Comments given below do not of necessity reflect the opinion of the News. In fact, oftentimes the opinion expressed is directly opposite to that held by the News. The opinions are given, however, because this is a newspaper.

Poor Oklahoma.
McAlester News-Capital: Oklahoma sold its birthright for a mess of pottage—and then didn't get the pottage.

That is what surface indications denote.
When Oklahoma went Republican last fall, there was much chortling in the circles of big business. "Aha, we sit pretty now," came exultantly from the throats that wear silk collars.

But see what has happened.
The commissioner who has a throttle hold on the Indians of the state isn't even a native.

And the president goes so far as to object to a tariff on oil—which objection will probably stifle for years Oklahoma's biggest business.

And insult is added to injury. Representative Tredway, of Massachusetts, himself a high tariff fanatic, declares that the proposed duty on oil, would only "aid the monopoly that markets the product."

How clarifying is that statement! We thought that was what high tariff was for.

Tariff that shuts out outside competition helps the industry that controls the product in America, to be sure.

But oil will likely go on the free list.

Page Miss Alice and the senator with the gray mane. Is Oklahoma entirely forgotten, or has Henry Daugherty toyed with us long enough?

Mob Rule Is Anarchy.

Tulsa Tribune: Hazing has become pretty much an ancient practice in our colleges. Time was when it was a rather common practice. It was not killed by faculty or administration rule or regulation. It has grown less simply because the student bodies have grown to be more law-respecting. It was a practice that taught, unconsciously, if not otherwise, a lack of respect for law, a disregard for regulation by law and the agencies of law.

That which has proved to be not good in college capers is not good in citizenship. There are well defined agencies for law enforcement. If those agencies are inefficient or fail to function, it is perfectly good citizenship to insist that they do function; to criticize them for their failure; to seek to get public officials who will enforce the law. But to take matters outside of the law is anarchy. And anarchy cannot be tolerated.

Any citizen who will take part in a rail-riding or a tar and feather party or who will even discuss or contemplate or encourage any such a plan or who will inject either racial or religious prejudices into organized action in any form, is an enemy to American democracy.

If men who have a righteous obsession for better conditions would put their splendid energy and enthusiasm into a public and open and above board demand for efficient officials they would work within the bounds of a republican form of government for a republican form of government. But when they seek to operate in secrecy, to work sub rosa, they work to undermine the very foundations of the institutions and national life which they profess to foster. Mob rule of any kind is intolerable. It is the most vicious blow that can be struck at the fame and good fortune of any state or city. It cannot and must not be.

THE WHEAT CROP REVIVING INDUSTRY

Wichita Times.
Wheat is the commodity that is helping bring prosperity to many sections of our country and which is exerting a helpful influence everywhere.

One of the first effects of wheat harvest was a diminution of unemployment over the country. The ripening grain fields called for labor and multiplied thousands of unemployed found profitable employment in the harvest fields. The movement of grain has given employment to other thousands of railroad men, and is giving railroads needed revenues and, if it has not already started, will soon start repairs of railroad rolling stocks which in turn will call for materials and more labor.

With the money from the sale of his wheat the farmer is liquidating his debts to his merchant and banker and these men are in turn applying this money to their obligations with the wholesaler and manufacturer and with the central bank. The crop is being used immediately to loosen up a tight situation and is today a biggest factor in a promised revival of trade.

A leading Texas editor is fond of repeating that civilization begins with the plow. We hope that he may say a revival of industry began with the wheat crop.

Let America Lead.

Dearborn Independent.
President Hibben, of Princeton, recently spoke with inspiring force and illumination on the duty which the present opportunity for world service offers America. With all his being he resented the interpretation put upon the cry now heard throughout the land, "America First," as standing for a self-centered policy. Rather would he have it widely interpreted as "America first in the service of the world; first in its ready response to the world's needs."

Dr. Hibben did well to dwell pointedly on the particular world service that obviously presents our opportunity and our duty today. "Let America be first," he said, "to use its great power and influence to realize the desire of all peoples of the earth, the disarmament of the nations and the permanent peace of the world."

Here, surely is the open door to a great world opportunity. To miss it by thinking to purchase immunity from international obligation by paying the price of loss of international leadership would be foolish. Taking the lead in disarmament means taking the lead in bringing America and the world out of the fog of materialistic doubt into which we have drifted. It is our opportunity to lay the corner stone in a world structure that, despite the darkness and horror that have clouded its first quarter, shall make this century ere its close stand out in history distinctively as the century of moral and spiritual progress: the century of peace.

Democrat Heads Confer on Plan to Reorganize

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 26.—Whether the Democratic party of Oklahoma shall reorganize or continue functioning as at present was to be decided at a meeting of the democratic state central committee which opened here today. Political observers regarded the meeting as one of the most important held since the presidential campaign of 1920.
Reorganization plans will be opposed by former Senator Gore and several other prominent party leaders. Gore has promised to address the meeting and give his views on the subject.

Supporters of the reorganization plans include Ed M. Seamans, chairman of the Oklahoma county democratic central committee, and several other prominent members of the state central committee.

The reorganization plans call for the election of a precinct chairman, the election by precinct chairmen of a county chairman and the election of congressional chairman by county chairmen.

The party at present functions through state committeemen and county chairmen.

If I could but touch your hand again!
But I could not see your smile again!
But it never will be.
For you are gone.

And the years—
That are but memories—

Personality and charm—
Lingering still about your room—

STABBED MAN HAS TURN FOR BETTER

Doctors Note Improvement in Condition of Joe McElreath.

Joe McElreath, who was stabbed here late Saturday afternoon by D. C. Welch in a dispute which arose over McElreath's desire to cross lands being rented by Welch, was reported improving today at the local hospital.

Although the injured man, whose heart was cut by the stab, is still in a somewhat critical condition, doctors expressed much more optimism this morning for his recovery. Paralysis which set in in McElreath's right side Saturday night was said to be somewhat better today. He had not regained full consciousness this morning, doctors said, but seemed to realize his surroundings to a certain extent.

In the meantime, D. C. Welch, about 50 years of age, and his son Edward, about 30, are being held in the county jail. Filing of charges against them is pending developments in McElreath's case. County Attorney Wayne Waddington was busy yesterday collecting evidence in the case which he expects to be able to use, however McElreath's condition turns.

Visitors were still being kept away from the stabbed man this morning. Only his wife has been allowed to see him.

RELEASE IRISH LAWMAKERS FOR PEACE MEETING

(By the Associated Press)

BELFAST, July 26.—The Belfast Telegraph's Dublin correspondent said today that he understood virtually all the members of the Daily Eireann, the Irish republican parliament, who are in jail will be released at an early date. This action is to be taken to give them an opportunity to meet and discuss the British government's proposals for a settlement of the Irish question, he adds.

LONDON, July 26.—Austin Chamberlain, the government leader, said in the house of commons he hoped Parliament would be prorogued August 26 but he foreshadowed the possibility of its being summoned again in November or December to pass on legislation necessary to give effect to an Irish settlement.

TULSA.—Business men of this city in starting a united city building campaign, stated they expected Tulsa's 1940 population to be 500,000.

DEAF MUTES MADE TO HEAR BY OPERATIONS

CLEVELAND, July 26.—Deaf mutes can be cured. This was announced today at the National Osteopathic convention by Dr. Curtis H. Munice, of Brooklyn.

"A boy three years old was brought to me," he said, "deaf from birth and therefore speechless. Examination of Eustachian tubes showed that they had never fully developed, and in their undeveloped state were closed. The drum membranes were badly retracted. The boy was operated upon, the tubes reconstructed to the bony canal. On his return home there was a band of music playing. The boy looked in the direction of the music, put his hands to his ears and laughed, and gave other signs that he could hear. Following this demonstration, his mother put him through many other tests which proved his hearing present. From this point there was a gradual improvement in his hearing. He soon learned to talk; in six months' time his hearing was normal, and speech improving fast. This little patient was always failing before his operation, due to the effect of his deafness upon his equilibrium. After the operation his balance became normal immediately.

"If osteopathic operative constructive finger surgery were limited only to the cure of these little sufferers, who without it are destined to go through life shut in from the world, its value to humanity would be immeasurable, but when we consider its possibilities of also restoring hearing to those who have been deaf for years, we can rightly feel proud of this technique and show our enthusiasm because of its results."

SITE IS CHOSEN FOR SCOUT CAMP

Local Boys Will Leave Aug. 1 for Desperado Springs on Outing.

All Ada Boy Scouts who expect to go on the annual camping trip which starts next Monday were requested in a call sent out from scout headquarters today by Scout Executive Harry Miller to report to headquarters this week and sign up.

The summer camp will be held at Desperado Springs, on the Gillespie farm, near Tishomingo.

"It was only by extra persuasion that Mr. Gillespie consented to let us camp at this the finest grounds for the purpose in Oklahoma," Mr. Miller said this morning. He asks that scouts see him tomorrow and register so that he can figure on how much equipment and groceries will be necessary for the trip. Hikes will be made from Desperado Springs to Devil's Den where it was first planned to pitch camp, and to Tishomingo and other places, Mr. Miller said. Total cost of the camping trip to each scout will be $9. Fine fishing and swimming is accessible at the camp and the scout executive expects this to be one of the best outings the local troops ever held.

Rules and orders of the day to be used at the camp probably will be announced by Mr. Miller Wednesday or Thursday.

FLAMES INJURE MAURETANIA IN ENGLISH PIERS

(By the Associated Press.)

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., July 26.—After a battle lasting more than twelve hours, the flames on board the Cunard liner Mauretania, which broke out as she was lying at a pier here yesterday afternoon, were finally conquered by firemen early today, but not before the interior of the mammoth liner presented a sorry spectacle from fire and water.

The fire originated in a first class cabin on the starboard side of the E deck and 50 cabins on that deck extending across the ship and forward of the engine room bulkhead for 80 feet were destroyed. The floor of the main saloon on D deck was badly burned and buckled. The damage is not so extensive as was feared at first, but it is serious enough and considerable time will be required to put the big vessel into shape.

Everything for QUALITY —nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.

A Creditor Nation's Opportunity

By FRANCIS H. SISSON, Vice President Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

IN THE widest sense, the commodities which nations have to offer their neighbors fall into three general categories; those commodities representing natural resources—the product of field, forest and mine; manufactures—the product of machinery and the factory worker's skill; and capital—the accumulated surplus of industry of every description.

So long as we were a country with a great area of new land in the West inviting development and attracting foreign capital we were, as regards other countries, a debtor nation. We had not capital enough ourselves to carry out the huge development, and we called in the assistance of those nations with money to lend. By investing capital here foreigners were creating a demand for and supplying the means to buy their goods. Therefore we furnished an excellent market for the products of our creditors.

want payment in merchandise, since the larger manufacturing nations, while rich in many fundamental natural resources, such as coal and iron, are often lacking in raw materials, such as cotton, wool or copper. So the lenders of capital took their pay from the United States in such of our goods as they needed for their economic existence; we in turn received pay for our goods sold in foreign countries partly in merchandise, partly in capital loans and partly in other services. But the countries which were exporting capital and manufactures on a large scale were getting their equivalent in the form of merchandise imported greatly in excess of their goods exported.

The United States became not only one of the world's largest sources of raw materials, but also one of the largest producers of manufactured goods. Before 1914 we became a country with a surplus over domestic consumption of manufactured goods for export in addition to our already large surplus of raw materials. But we remained on the whole a debtor country, as we used more capital than we ourselves could supply. For foreign capital investments we paid with merchandise exports greatly in excess of our imports.

Nevertheless, just before the outbreak of the war there were signs that we were approaching a period of fundamental change in the relations of our economic life. All our unoccupied territory had been opened to exploitation and we were turning to more intensive development—the larger and better utilization of the things which we were already using. We were beginning to export capital on a small scale. This change from a debtor to a creditor country was accelerated by the war.

At the present time we are in the anomalous position of exporting both capital and merchandise in excess of our merchandise imports. Such a condition cannot continue indefinitely, for it would lead away from any true balance of trade. Already the balance is over-weighted, and foreign countries are having great difficulty in paying their debts to us.

It is obvious, then, that when those countries which owe us for our goods and capital are again re-established, financially and economically, they will have to pay us with something more tangible than new or refunded loans. Obviously there we can best supply. When the present reaction in prices has run its course our export trade in merchandise can, if adequately supported by credit and banking facilities, be increased; though the present great excess over imports cannot be carried for long.

The banker is charged with the duty of devising machinery for carrying and settling international balances, and the banker, feeling his responsibility, is already at work on the task. Several of our larger financial institutions have been furnishing many banking facilities and information services to their customers doing business in other lands. These have met our immediate requirements and have taught our merchants that credit, when granted wisely, is a universal commodity. But our banks are not equipped for long term financing of foreign trade. The chief necessity of the situation, in fact, is for American bankers and business men to develop adequate credit and commercial machinery to meet the demands of present exigencies. Already various efforts have been made in this direction, including the revival of the War Finance Corporation, the establishment of the Federal International Banking Corporation, the Foreign Credit Corporation, the International Acceptance Bank, the Copper Export Association, the First Federal Foreign Banking Association and the proposed establishment of the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation, with a capital of $100,000,000, for the purpose of furnishing long term credit to foreign purchasers of our merchandise.

By and large, however, the duty of supporting our foreign trade does not rest entirely on the banker. Our banks cannot work alone; they must have the co-operation of their customers, if our trade is not to suffer a decline as spectacular as has been its rise. If the banks tied up their liquid funds in long term investments, no matter how good the security, there would soon be no more liquid capital, and the wants of our agriculturists and manufacturers could not be supplied.

The variety of our foreign trade is now so wide that an excess of production over consumption reacts upon every class of our population. The duty, therefore, of supporting our foreign trade in this time of readjustment to the more permanent conditions of the future rests on every individual citizen.

Moundsville, W. Va.—"I had taken doctor's medicine for nearly two years because my periods were irregular, came every two weeks, and I would suffer with bearing-down pains. A lady told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how much good it had done her daughter, so I took it and now I am regular every month and have no pain at all. I recommend your medicine to everyone and you may publish my testimonial, hoping that the Vegetable Compound does some other girl the good it has done me."—Mrs. GEORGE TEGARDEN, 915 Third Street, Moundsville, W. Va.

How many young girls suffer as Mrs. TEGARDEN did and do not know where to turn for advice or help. They often are obliged to earn their living by toiling day in and day out no matter how hard the pain they have to bear. Every girl who suffers in this way should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if she does not get prompt relief write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, about her health. Such letters are held in strict confidence.

sprinkling the stable floor a short time before the cows are milked. Bacteria stick to wet surfaces, but as they are free to float in the air again as soon as the surfaces have become dry, the floor should be kept moist until after the period of milking.

If all of the dairy cows were subjected to the tuberculin test, the precaution mentioned above would be so important for the tubercular cow could be identified and removed, yet there are other bacteria in the stable dust and manure which are injurious to the human system. Milk secured from cows free from tuberculosis, with clean moist flanks and udders, milked with clean hands into sterile covered pails in dust free stables and kept cold is a safe and welcome food.

WIFE OF NOTED BRITISH STATESMAN BECOMES ENTHUSIASTIC TENNIS STAR

Mrs. Winston Churchill serving at a recent match at Queen's club, London.

The recent international women's tennis tournament in England showed clearly how the net game has taken hold of the fair sex of Europe as well as America. Tennis now lays claim to a part of the time of many of England's titled women. One of the nobility who has become an expert with the racquet is Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the noted English statesman. That she gets the most out of the game is shown by the photo above, taken at a match at the Queen's club.

BEAT UP WOMAN IS CHARGE ONE NEGRO ANSWERS

Speeding, assault and battery, drunk, making "choc," disturbing the peace, unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors, all have their share of attention in the police department recently. Another arrest was made for speeding yesterday which runs the total up to more than twice the amount in a week before the police car was purchased, it is said.

Johnnie Hall, colored, was arrested yesterday on a charge of beating up Marjorie Winn, colored, and was permitted to pay the sum of $24.75 into the city fund for such things. He is said to have become enraged at the woman and took his vengeance out in beating her.

Another arrest was made last night in darkness when officers found a negro woman with a tub of muck in the makings at her house. Her case will be set today.

GRAIN MARKET IS SENT TO GROWERS

National Director Comes to Assistance of Many State Farmers.

(By the Associated Press)
OKEENE, Okla., July 26.—National co-operative grain marketing will be introduced to grain growers and elevator men near Idabel, Muskogee, and Fairview, Okla., this week, according to C. H. Hyde, national director of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., from Oklahoma and state organizer.

During his stay at Okeene and Homestead, Okla., this past week, directors of Farmers Union Co-operative elevators at Okeene and Homestead signed elevator contracts with the U. S. Grain Growers, following a mass meeting held at Okeene, Monday.

In signing the contract the elevators agreed to deliver to the sale department of the U. S. Grain Growers, only the grain of farmers who take out individual memberships. By signing the individual membership card, Mr. Hyde explained, the farmer agrees to sell his grain through the U. S. Grain Growers for a period of five years, with the option of selling direct and consigning or pooling his product. He may also elect, Mr. Hyde said, to pool one third of his crop, and sell the remaining two thirds by direct sale or agreement.

More than 100 farmers of Okeene and Homestead signed the individual contracts by Wednesday. Directors of elevators at Elk City, Carter, Hammon and Strong City voted unanimously to accept the elevator contract.

When the directors of elevators at Okeene and Hammon had signed, they sent a telegram to the co-operative elevator at Denton, Nebraska, the first one to sign in Nebraska. "Congratulations on being first," the telegram said. The Okeene and Hammon elevators were the first to sign in Oklahoma.

In preliminary work of organization, Mr. Hyde is being assisted by Walter Y. Durand, of Chicago, formerly with the Federal Trade Commission, at Washington, D. C., John T. Montgomery, county agent in Illinois, Walter B. Jesse of Supply, Okla., president of the state association of co-operative elevators, and George Wilson, formerly of the A. and M. college at Stillwater, Okla.

Thursday evening, a general session of the congress will be held, and Governor J. B. A. Robertson, and John Whitehurst, president of the A. and M. college, will deliver the address of welcome.

Short courses on the more important studies of the college, will be given during the first four days. The fifth day is to be devoted to community and rural church problems, under direction of R. L. Russel, of Nashville, Tenn., rural church secretary for the M. E. Church, south. The final three days will see meetings of county farm demonstration agents.

PRESIDENT SAYS BUY RAIL BONDS

The Purchase of Securities Would Relieve Problem, Belief.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Harding sent a message to congress today asking legislation authorizing the war finance corporation to handle funding of railroad indebtedness and to increase credit for financing agricultural exports.

That there was "moral obligation" upon the government to aid in both respects was stated by the president, who commended the war finance corporation as an agency of great value in restoring economic conditions. Prompt action is requested but the president did not ask that both parts be contained in the same bill.

Republican leaders, therefore, adopted the plan of dealing with the railroad and agricultural questions in separate measures. Senator Kellogg, republican of Minnesota, introduced a bill drafted by Secretary Hoover of the department of commerce and chairman Meyer of the war finance corporation extending the powers of the war finance committee to agricultural export financing. This also would increase the corporation's revolving credit fund from $500,000,000 to one billion dollars.

The Kellogg bill is offered as a substitute for the pending Norris bill to create a new government export financial corporation with $100,000,000 capital. Provisions dealing with the railroad funding was stricken from the Hoover-Meyer draft before presenting it and republican leaders plan to consider later and separately the president's recommendation that the war finance committee take over the railroad funding.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Harding in his special message to congress today, asked it to extend the authority of the war finance corporation to purchase securities, probably up to $500,000,000 now in the hands of the railroad administrators so that the proceeds may be used for a settlement with the railroads.

This, the president told congress, would open the way to "early adjustment and relief" of the railroad problem. There was no thought he said of asking congress for any additional money.

The railway claims, based on the "inefficiency of labor during the war," the president said, are to be waived for the present to hasten a settlement without a surrender of their rights in court. Although the railroads owe the government large sums on various accounts.

"No additional expenses," said the president, explaining the request, "no additional investment is required on the part of the government, there is no added liability, no added tax burden."

"It is merely the granting of authority necessary to enable a useful and efficient government agency to use its available funds to purchase securities for which congress has already authorized an issue, and turn them into channels of finance ready to ficit them."

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—White House officials said at 10:30 this morning that they were still in doubt as to the form President Harding's communication to congress on the railroad finances would take. They said the document might be a formal message, although the president is not planning to go to congress himself to present it. Earlier it had been said that it might take the form of a letter to the interstate committee.
